

Philosophy in the Wild
Ridley Creek State Park, Summer 2020
Presentations

Group A

Zach Agoff (Penn), "Émilie du Châtelet and the Early Modern Conceptions of Eternity: Self-Necessity, Everlastingness, and Atemporality"

Sara Purinton (Penn), "Diachronic Advising and Motivation over Time: A Dilemma for Internalism About Reasons"

Tiina Rosenqvist (Penn), "Color Illusions and the "Competence-Embeddedness" of Color Perception"

Mingjun Zhang (Penn), "What is a Real Pattern?"

Group B

Mike Gadomski (Penn), "Democracy, Justification, and Responsibility"

Jacqueline Wallis (Penn), "Keeping Microbes in Mind: A New Problem for Translating Microbiome-gut-brain Axis Research"

Maja Sidzińska (Penn), "Does the Difference between Fundamentality and Derivativeness Make a Difference (for Perspectival Realism)?"

Kate Nicole Hoffman (Penn), "Defining "The Wild""

